Education

- JD, Dalhousie University, 2019
- BA, Queen's University, 2016

As an articling student, Kerri supports professionals from various groups in several capacities.

As part of the student program, Kerri is responsible for small claims files. This includes corresponding with clients, preparing court documents, drafting pleadings, and attending court for different matters. Additionally, she supports professionals across all groups with different tasks, such as legal research, drafting, and attending client meetings.
