Prior to attending law school, Bazam earned a Bachelor of Science in Biomedical Physiology with a specialization in Neuroscience. Following her undergraduate studies, she worked with the Vancouver Public Library as a Senior Library Public Service Associate, where she supported members of the community in accessing a wide range of services and resources.

During her second year of law school, Bazam served as Vice President Internal of the Dalhousie Asian Law Students' Society, where she helped organize cultural events aimed at fostering community and promoting cultural awareness within the law school.

A Bazam chose BLG for its reputation for delivering exceptional legal services, its strong connection to the Vancouver community, and collaborative culture.
