January 29, 2026	Consultative Document on Credit Risk Management OSFI is seeking early stakeholder input on the Credit Risk Management Guideline (CRM Guideline) that it is developing, and it has issued a consultative document for this purpose. OSFI intends that the	Comments are due July 29, 2026.

CRM Guideline:

- Strengthen credit risk management of all exposures at federally regulated financial institutions by applying international best practices for lending, account and portfolio management and addressing areas where there may be gaps in existing regulatory guidance.
- Promote greater regulatory and supervisory efficiency by consolidating and clarifying OSFI's existing credit risk-related expectations , including in key credit segments like real estate secured lending (RESL) and wholesale credit.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Modernize OSFI's guidance to enable agile responses to emerging credit risk areas, such as non-bank financial intermediation and sound counterparty credit risk management
January 29, 2026	Consultative Document on a Proposed Senior Leader Regime OSFI is in the process of reviewing its suitability and accountability expectations for senior leaders of federally regulated financial institutions, and it is seeking input from stakeholders. OSFI considers senior leaders to be members of the board of directors and senior management, including the "c-suite," heads of oversight functions, heads of business platforms, or anyone else reporting directly to the CEO or the board. OSFI is	Comments are due October 31, 2026.

	looking to modernize the regime, with particular emphasis on accountability (the clear assignment of senior leader responsibilities, oversight, and an obligation to be answerable for decisions, conduct, and outcomes) within institutions. While federal statutes and OSFI guidance incorporate elements of suitability and accountability, OSFI considers that the rapidly evolving landscape requires stronger measures, especially with respect to accountability, to complement the existing framework.
January 29, 2026	Liquidity Adequacy Requirements (LAR) – Guideline (2026) OSFI has issued Liquidity Adequacy Requirements (LAR) – Guideline (2026) for banks, bank holding companies and trust and loan companies. The liquidity metrics set out in this guideline provide the	Effective May 1, 2026.

framework within which the Superintendent assesses whether a bank, a bank holding company or a trust and loan company maintains adequate liquidity pursuant to the Bank Act and Trust and Loan Companies Act.

For this purpose, the Superintendent has established two minimum standards: the Liquidity Coverage Ratio (LCR) and the Net Stable Funding Ratio (NSFR). These standards – in conjunction with additional liquidity metrics where OSFI reserves the right to apply supervisory requirements as needed, including the net cumulative cash flow (NCCF), the operating cash flow statement (OCFS), the liquidity monitoring tools and the intraday liquidity monitoring tools – when assessed as a package, provide an overall perspective of the liquidity adequacy of an institution. The LAR Guideline should be read together with the Basel Committee

January 29, 2026	Guide to Administrative Monetary Penalties OSFI has issued a guide, aimed at federally regulated financial institutions and their senior management, which provides an overview of select provisions of the legislative framework for the administrative monetary penalties (AMPs) set out in sections 24 to 37.01 of the Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions Act, and information on the AMP assessment process. It outlines OSFI's AMP procedures and its approach to assessing the statutory penalty criteria.	Published January 29, 2026.

	Financed Emissions Related to Off-Balance Sheet Assets under Management OSFI has issued a letter that notes that, on January 8, 2026, it paused the planned public consultation on the disclosure expectation for financed emissions related to off-balance sheet assets under management (AUM) under Guideline B-15. In connection with this pause, OSFI will also be deferring the implementation for this expectation to a future date. It does note that it still expects financial institutions to quantify and manage their climate-related transition risks, including for off-balance sheet AUM.
January 8, 2026	Postponement: Consultation on Revised Guideline B-12 on Interest Rate Risk Management OSFI has stated, on its page Modernizing	Published January 8, 2026.

	policies, guidance, and supervision for regulatory efficiency, that it is postponing its consultation on revised Guideline B-12 on Interest Rate Risk Management, which will be rescheduled for a later date.
January 8, 2026	Climate Risk Forum – Winding-Down OSFI will wind down its Climate Risk Forum. OSFI has indicated that this step reflects the sector's growing maturity, streamlines engagement, and allows OSFI to focus on core supervisory priorities while maintaining clear expectations through existing guidance.	Published January 8, 2026.
