Myriam is responsible for student recruitment and student programs in our Montréal office, as well as all of the associates recruitment.

Working with the Student Recruitment Committee and the National Talent Acquisition Team, Myriam is engaged in the rollout of BLG's branding strategy and she strives to ensure that students and articling students achieve their full potential. After having briefly practiced family law, Myriam worked for a national recruitment agency specializing in the legal services field as a recruitment consultant and headhunter. In that capacity, she had the opportunity to work with most of the Montréal offices of national and international firms, including BLG, and thus gained an in-depth knowledge of the market.
