Parker Easter is a corporate and commercial lawyer developing a broad business law practice with a focus on mergers and acquisitions, commercialization, and corporate finance. He routinely works with technology, consumer packaged goods and other high-growth companies. Parker works closely with clients as a responsive and practical advisor.

As a successful founder in the manufacturing, entertainment, and restaurant industries, and with experience as an early employee at one of Canada's fastest growing startups, Parker brings a uniquely entrepreneurial perspective to his legal practice. His firsthand understanding of the challenges and opportunities faced by scaling businesses allows him to provide practical advice to clients navigating complex legal and business issues. He is actively engaged in startup and innovation ecosystems across Canada and is a committed student and enthusiast of startup and high-growth companies.

In addition to his Juris Doctorate from the University of Calgary, Parker holds a Bachelor of Business Administration from Brandon University in Manitoba, where he was named Valedictorian of his graduating class.
