Moshe's practice focuses on all aspects of Canadian competition and foreign investment review law. He advises clients in a variety of related matters, including:

- Mergers and acquisitions
- Cartel investigations
- Private actions (including class actions)
- Advertising and marketing practices
- Abuse of dominance
- Foreign investment review

Moshe has experience in the grocery, telecommunications, broadcasting, automotive, data services and digital economy sectors. He has appeared in litigated matters before the Canadian Competition Tribunal and Federal Court of Appeal. Before joining BLG, Moshe was a Competition Law Officer in both the Monopolistic Practices Directorate and the Policy and Advocacy Directorate of the Canadian Competition Bureau. In these roles, he was responsible for investigating allegations of anti-competitive conduct, including several prominent abuse of dominance and civil competitor collaboration cases. Moshe was also the Competition Bureau's lead on co-operation agreements with other federal and provincial law enforcement agencies aimed at enhancing joint enforcement activities in relation to cartel and other Bureau investigations.
