BLG delivers benefits of AI with RelativityOne

As Canada's Law Firm, we are constantly exploring, testing and implementing transformative ways to add value for our clients, using technology to reduce costs and improve efficiency.

To bring enhanced value and service to our clients during the discovery process, we've partnered with Relativity® to offer their secure, cloud-based, top-quality e-discovery platform, RelativityOne.

RelativityOne increases efficiency and reduces client costs by securely managing the client data involved in litigation using AI and machine learning.

With help from RelativityOne's secure, scalable technology, our Discovery Services team provides data processing and hosting services that cost 25 to 50 per cent less than comparable commercial rates.
