

Federal Financial Institutions Legislative and Regulatory Reporter - September 2025

December 14, 2025

The Federal Financial Institutions Legislative and Regulatory Reporter (the Reporter) provides a monthly summary of Canadian federal legislative and regulatory developments of relevance to federally regulated financial institutions. It does not address Canadian provincial financial services legislative and regulatory developments. In addition, purely technical and administrative changes (such as changes to reporting forms) are not covered.

September 2025

Published	Title and Brief Summary	Status (if applicable)
Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions (OSFI)
September 11, 2025	Guideline E-23 – Model Risk Management (2027) Guideline E-23 sets out OSFI’s expectations for effective enterprise-wide model risk management (MRM) using a risk-based approach. It is applicable to all federally regulated financial institutions (including foreign bank branches and foreign insurance company branches, insofar as this guideline is consistent with requirements and legal obligations related to their	Effective May 1, 2027 business in Canada as set out in Guideline E-4 on Foreign Entities Operating in Canada on a Branch Basis).

With the rise of digitalization and model applications (intensified by the rise of artificial intelligence and machine learning models), institutions are increasingly relying on such models to support or drive decision-making – including in business areas that traditionally did not rely on models. As these models begin to use more diverse data sources and more complex techniques, the risk that accompanies such models (model risk) is heightened as a result. The guideline states that institutions need to be aware of how using these models can impact their risk profile, and that effective risk management practices must be in place to mitigate the risks.

The guideline sets out the following outcomes and expectations for model risk management:

- Model risk is well understood and managed across the enterprise.
- Model risk is managed using a risk-based approach.
- Model governance covers the entire model lifecycle.

September 11, 2025	Capital Adequacy Requirements (CAR) – Guideline (2026) OSFI has published the Capital Adequacy Requirements (CAR) 2026 guideline, with corresponding revisions to the Small and Medium-Sized Deposit-Taking Institutions (SMSB) Capital and Liquidity Requirements Guideline. The revised guideline includes updates and clarifications related to the treatment of United States Government Sponsored Entities, the identification of residential real estate exposures as income producing, and implementation considerations related to the treatment of Combined Loan Products. Revisions also include updates to the market risk capital rules to improve alignment with the credit risk capital treatment of sovereign exposures. The revisions include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • How residential real estate exposures are identified as income-producing properties where repayment is materially dependent on cash flows generated by the property (for example, rental or leasing income, or from the sale of the property); • The treatment of certain U.S. government-sponsored entities (GSE) to better align 	Effective November 1, 2025 or January 1, 2026 for institutions with a fiscal year ending October 31 or December 31, respectively.
---------------------------	---	---

	with their regulatory treatment in the U.S.; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Implementation considerations related to the treatment of Combined Loan Products (CLP) where multiple lending products are secured by the same property, and are providing banks with 18 months to implement any required changes into their internal models; • Market risk capital rules to improve alignment with the credit risk capital treatment of sovereign exposures. Sovereign exposures refer to a financial institution's exposure to a country's government or its central bank, for example through government bonds, treasury bills, or other loans made to a sovereign entity. The guideline also notes that increases to the Basel III standardized capital floor level for Canadian banks are deferred until further notice, as announced by the Superintendent in February 2025.
September 11, 2025	Small and Medium-Sized Deposit-Taking Institutions (SMSBs) Capital and Liquidity Requirements – Guideline (2026) OSFI has published this guideline to explain the criteria it uses to segment	Effective November 1, 2025 or January 1, 2026, for institutions with a fiscal year ending October 31 or December 31, respectively.

	small and medium-sized deposit-taking institutions (SMSBs) into three categories for the purposes of determining capital and liquidity requirements. Capital and liquidity requirements for SMSBs are detailed in the Capital Adequacy Requirements (CAR) Guideline, the Leverage Requirements (LR) Guideline and the Liquidity Adequacy Requirements (LAR) Guideline, which are referenced throughout. This guideline is a reference tool for SMSBs to clarify which parts of the CAR, LR and LAR are applicable to SMSBs in their category.
September 11, 2025	Letter to Industry - Revision of OSFI's Approach Regarding Administrative Monetary Penalties This letter notifies Federally Regulated Financial Institutions and Foreign Bank Representative Offices of OSFI's revised approach for assessing Administrative Monetary Penalties to align with its risk appetite, which favours early intervention to address risks that could jeopardize the public's confidence in the soundness of the Canadian financial system. Section 26 of the Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions Act sets out the criteria that the Superintendent must consider in determining the amount of an administrative monetary penalty. OSFI is	Revised approach effective for violations that occur after September 11, 2025, with exceptions: Contraventions occurring on or before September 11, 2025 but which are identified on or before December 31, 2026 will be captured by the pre-September 11, 2025 approach.

	revising its approach to assessing these criteria to include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Incorporating additional indicia for assessing the statutory penalty criteria; • A lower tolerance for contraventions such that penalties will be issued when we determine lower levels of negligence and harm; and • A revised scaling factor to determine appropriate AMP amounts for small and mid-sized financial institutions. A guide containing more information and instructions regarding the AMP assessment process will be published later in 2025.
September 11, 2025	Backgrounder: Guideline E-15 - Appointed Actuary: Legal Requirements, Qualifications and Peer Review OSFI is making major changes to Guideline E-15 – Appointed Actuary: Legal Requirements, Qualifications and Peer Review. OSFI is: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Removing all content from Guideline E-15 that unnecessarily repeats requirements that already exist in the Insurance Companies Act; and • Eliminating the requirement for peer 	The elimination of peer review of an appointed actuary's work will take effect on January 1, 2027.

	review of an appointed actuary's work.
September 10, 2025	Internal Capital Adequacy Assessment Process Expectations and Related Internal Audit Requirements This communication from OSFI outlines its expectations with respect to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The 2025 internal capital adequacy assessment process (ICAAP) submission; and • The internal audit review relating to ICAAP. It is aimed at all small and medium-sized banks (SMSBs) including Category III institutions that are using the simplified risk-based approach. OSFI will not be requesting that all SMSBs submit their 2025 ICAAP documents and internal audit of the ICAAP for the year 2025. Specific institutions, however, may be requested to submit their 2025 ICAAP and related internal audit as part of OSFI's ongoing supervisory process in 2026. OSFI stresses that the ICAAP is above all an important internal process; it should not be seen as a regulatory exercise. It expects that SMSBs' ICAAP should be updated as part of their annual planning process, and that all SMSBs

	complete their ICAAP data return annually and file the return within 90 days of their fiscal year-end date through the Regulatory Reporting System. OSFI also commits to communicating to SMSBs, no later than September 30, 2025, specific risks and downturn severity for the prescribed single-factor stress tests that it expects institutions to undertake as part of the 2025 ICAAP and ICAAP data return.

Bank of Canada

September 8, 2025	Letter to Industry on Trust Tax Issue The Bank of Canada has reminded stakeholders that its mandate to supervise Payment Service Providers (PSPs) under the Retail Payment Activities Act (RPAA) is now in effect, (as of September 8, 2025), including regulatory obligations related to operational risk and end-user funds safeguarding. The Bank of Canada also notes that it and the Department of Finance are aware that PSPs seeking to comply with the safeguarding requirements of the RPAA using the “in trust in a trust account” method may have unintended tax consequences. These tax consequences, or unintended administrative burden, may arise for PSPs that retain interest income on	Bank of Canada commenced its supervisory activities with respect to Payment Service Providers on September 8, 2025.

	the end-user funds they hold in trust as required by the RPAA. The Bank of Canada will consider this matter when carrying out its supervisory activities. The Department of Finance and tax authorities are working with industry to try and resolve this issue.
September 8, 2025	Payment Service Providers are now under Supervision – Registry to follow This news release informs the public and stakeholders that the Bank of Canada’s mandate to supervise Payment Service Providers (PSPs) under the Retail Payment Activities Act (RPAA) is in place effective September 8, 2025. As such: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • PSPs on the Applicant list are legally required to comply with RPAA obligations, including certain reporting requirements such as keeping information up to date on PSP Connect and replying to requests for information from the Bank. • The Bank of Canada can use enforcement tools to ensure these obligations are met by PSPs. The news release also notes that the Department of Finance continues to coordinate the screening of applicants for registration	Bank of Canada commenced its supervisory activities with respect to Payment Service Providers on September 8, 2025.

	under the Act, and that the Bank of Canada will begin publishing the Registry of PSPs and update it on a rolling basis.
