Benjamin is a certified business analyst. He brings a multinational background in solving organizational challenges in businesses ranging from start-ups to major law firms. By merging his legal, IT and business acumen, he is able to effectively identify operational improvements in order to reach enterprise goals.

Benjamin has over 10 years of applicable experience in:

- Systems design and implementation;
- Strategic business development initiatives aimed at increasing market share;
- Process improvement and workflow optimization;
- Corporate reorganization and restructuring; and
- Legal compliance and risk.

Prior to joining BLG, he was a legal executive in a mid-size law firm where he led the expansion of their foreign national legal department.

Experience

- Led the strategic development of foreign national legal initiatives for a mid-size law firm by expanding various practice areas to clients in Spain, the U.K. and Poland.
- Guided a high-volume department in identifying operational inefficiencies costing $385k per year along with solutions to streamline work processes and improve key performance metrics.

- Supported the rollout of corporate iPads and various enterprise software initiatives for lawyers in a major law firm. This initiative provided lawyers with the tools needed to comfortably work in a flexible remote environment.
- Supported the COVID-19 response team in a major law firm by keeping up to date with developing restrictions and legislation which helped the team respond accordingly.
- Advised numerous start-up enterprises on legal compliance, operational strategy and scalability.
- Developed and implemented the office management software for a medical and dental practice.

Education

- BA (Hons) Law and Japanese, Dublin City University
- LLB, London Metropolitan University
- Certificate of Business Analysis, University of Toronto
