International Construction Projects

International construction projects require a legal team who understands the domestic and international construction landscape and can help your organization navigate the issues that affect these projects.

Our skilled group, which includes professional engineers, consistently ranks among the top construction law professionals in Canada.

We offer complete project lifecycle service, with up-front legal advice to help you achieve your business goals, and dispute resolution services if matters become contentious.

We advise on a range of issues related to international projects, including:

- contracts and agreements, including RFQs, RFPs and other procurement documents
- infrastructure and mega-projects
- public-private partnerships (P3s)
- risk management
- project financing and structuring
- licensing
- regulatory and environmental issues
- product liability
- insurance coverage and defence
- international arbitrations

Our clients include:

- major Canadian construction companies
- public and private project owners
- engineers
- architects
- consultants
- contractors
- manufacturers
- material suppliers
- property managers
- financiers
- underwriters and insurers involved in international projects

Experience

- An international EPC contractor in a highly technical dispute related to the design and construction of a large carbon capture plant. We acted as counsel for the contractor in arbitration, prosecuted claims against the owner, and defended counterclaims, in the total amount of $350 million.
