Experience

- Serving as external trademark counsel to leading Canadian companies with international trademark portfolios and as external Canadian trademark counsel to leading companies in the U.S. and abroad. Clients span a wide range of industries, including insurance and finance, food and beverage, biotechnology and pharmaceutical, clothing and footwear, green chemistry, gaming and lottery and automotive/power sports vehicles.
- Elected to serve on Council (the Board of Directors) of the Intellectual Property Institute of Canada (IPIC) in 2013-2014. IPIC is the Canadian professional organization of patent and trademark agents and lawyers practising in intellectual property. At that time, there were significant changes on the horizon for Canadian trademark law and practice, prompted largely by Canada's engagement in trade talks and Canada's imminent accession to three international trademark treaties (the Singapore Treaty, the Nice Agreement, and the Madrid Protocol). Justine's election to IPIC Council during this critical stage speaks to her expertise and reputation as a leading Canadian trademark lawyer with considerable experience in international trademark law and practice.
