

Initial Public Offerings

Canadian stock exchanges offer access to significant capital pools and investors, both domestic and international. Canadian capital markets offer smaller and mid-sized companies greater visibility than the many international stock exchanges, and are particularly attractive for resource-based issuers (including many whose assets are located outside of Canada).

Our skilled team advises clients who are looking to raise capital by going public and assists in meeting the reporting and governance requirements for public companies in Canada.

We have expertise in IPOs and listings on:

- the Toronto Stock Exchange
- the TSX Venture Exchange
- the Canadian Securities Exchange
- the NEO Exchange

We advise on all aspects of the going public process. We also act for public companies with domestic and international operations and for agents and underwriters throughout the capital-raising process.
