Procurement

Business and governments require a skilled, experienced legal team who will ensure that their interests are protected throughout the procurement process, including potential litigation.

Our team provides a complete range of procurement-related legal services, including assisting businesses with multi-billion dollar bids for public procurement opportunities. We offer representation throughout the procurement and contracting stages, and have assisted with developing, designing and implementing some of Canada's largest and most complex IT procurement processes. Our team represents clients at all levels of court—including the Supreme Court of Canada—and tribunals in Canada.
